

Maeva Ward -

Maeva's dance training started at a very young age at the Conservatoire Municipale de Suresnes in Paris, France. There, she studied both ballet and modern dance from principal dancers from the Paris Opera. At the age of 14, her family moved to the United States where she continued her dance training at a local studio in Burlington, Vermont. After high school, Maeva studied dance at the University of Utah as a ballet major. She also studied at Utah Valley University where she graduated with a degree in Modern Dance (BS). Maeva has choreographed many dances for studios, high school dance teams, college dance companies, and pre-professional dance companies, some of which have won best choreography awards. She has been a guest judge at several dance competitions across Utah.
